

CASE STUDY

Caffé Caruso, Horsemarket street, Warrington

Client: Alfio

Product installed: Reflecta Sound panels

JCW Acoustic Supplies installed custom-designed Reflecta sound panels to the walls within the café area of this traditional restaurant and café.

Caffé Caruso contacted JCW and tasked us with reducing reverberation time (echo) in the café area, to give customers a more peaceful and pleasant experience. They wanted something that would fit in with the Italian theme and not look out of place when installed within the café's traditional décor.

We decided the JCW Reflecta panels would suit our clients request perfectly as they are wall panels that absorb high levels of reflected noise and create a quieter, more comfortable environment. The panels can be also custom made to the clients request meaning we could create a panel that represented the colours of the Italian flag and would complement the café's rustic theme.

The installation took our 2-man team just one day to complete and we will also be completing more work at the restaurant after the undergo an extension.

We manufactured the panels in the colours of the Italian flag to ensure the Café maintained its traditional feel.